GERMANS FAIL BY ALERTNESS OF AMERICANS

Plans Overturned In Toul Sector by Our Artillery Observers

HUNS HAD PLANNED RAID ON XIVRAY TO TAKE PRISONERS

Rehearsed Troops a Week Behind the German Lines.

(Associated Press Telegram) With the American Army in France, Sunday, June 16.—In their attack on XIVray, on the Toul sector today the Germans hoped to enter the village and carry off a large number of prisoners, but the alertness of the American artillery observers completely overturned the enemy plan. Examination of the Germans captured in the fight disclosed that the enemy planned the raid a week in advance and that the 600 special troops who took part in it were rehearsed behind the German lines.

The enemy plan was to send forward a large party without preparatory artillery fire. This party was to take up a position near the American barbed wire and then send up a signal rocket for a box barrage to cover XIVray village and the approaching communication trenches while the heavier artillery was to bombard the villages in the rear.

American artillery observers saw a large number of Germans creeping about in No Man's Land and thinking they composed a large working party, the artillery signalled for a barrage.

The American artillery and machine guns went into action immediately and before the enemy barrage could get started had inflicted heavy casualties on the unprotected Germans in No Man's Land and played havoc with the plans for the raid.

The original enemy plan was for the attacking party to divide into three sections and to enter XIVray from three different directions. Only one section actually reached the outskirts of the village but only after it had been cut up badly by the American machine gun fire. Of these a small group got into XIVray where they were quickly surrounded by the Americans and either captured or killed. Eight prisoners, including a lieutenant, remained in the American hands.

A majority of the American casualties, which do not include any missing, resulted from the German artillery fire.

Casualties among French civilians occurred when a German shell burst near a church as a procession of villagers was emerging from mass. Many of the French wounded were cared for in American hospitals. This afternoon the American artillery opened a retaliatory fire against the area behind the German lines, while the Germans, apparently angered by the failure of the raid, bombarded villages as far as eight miles behind the American lines. The whole Toul sector is now echoing to the heaviest gun-fire in many weeks.

The Germans captured an American soldier in their attack on XIVray today but he did not remain a prisoner very long. At the edge of the village three Germans came upon a wounded American. He was placed under guard of a German private and started for the enemy lines. Reaching a point near the enemy wire entanglement, the American suddenly drew a revolver and forced his surprised custodian to march back across No Man's Land into the American lines. After turning his prisoner over to fellow soldiers, the wounded man fell unconscious from loss of blood.

"Between the Oise and the Aisne the French succeeded in carrying out early today a local operation which resulted in improvement of the French positions, northwest of Hautebraye. The French took 100 prisoners and captured several machine guns. In the Cavieres wood and in the Vosges our troops repulsed enemy surprise attacks. RAIDERS AVOID THE CONVOYED FLOTILLAS NOW BOUND OVERSEAS

(Associated Press Telegram) Washington, June 17.—Apparently avoiding the lanes of convoyed flotillas bound overseas, German submarines which began operations in American waters May 25, are continuing their attacks on unprotected prey. Their latest victims were unarmed sailing craft, the Norwegian Kringsjaa and the Samoa, which were sent down some 90 miles off the Virginia coast.

Details of the sinking of the Kringsjaa still were awaited today at the navy department. First information that this vessel had been destroyed came in a brief radio dispatch late last night from an American warship which had picked up all the survivors. The dispatch said the vessel had been sunk about 90 miles off the coast of Virginia but did not say at what time or in what manner.

Twenty vessels—11 sailing craft and nine steamers—are now known to have been sunk by the raiders. Six of these were Norwegian, one British, and the remainder, American.

Several of the American craft including the oil tanker, Herbert L. Pratt, have been towed to port.

Wayne, Ind., June 17.—Lieutenant Paul Frank Baer, the American "ace" who has been reported missing since May 22, is a prisoner in a German camp, according to confirmatory telegrams received here today by the aviator's mother, Mrs. Emma Baer Dyer, from the war department. An Associate Press dispatch from Paris on May 27 stated that the lieutenant had been missing since May 22.

Lieutenant Baer is 22 years old. He enlisted in the Lafayette Escadrille and later transferred to the American forces. He had a record of bringing down eight enemy planes.

Washington, June 17.—The capture of Jeremiah O'Leary, Irish American leader under indictment in New York, in a mountain cabin in Washington, will be followed soon by arrest of a number of other Irish agitators in the United States on charges of treason or espionage.

BAKER APPROVES SENTENCES OF THE COURTS-MARTIAL

(Associated Press Telegram) Washington, June 17.—Sentences ranging from eighteen months to twenty years imprisonment imposed by court-martial on so-called conscientious objectors who refused military service at Camp Upton, N. Y., and Camp Gordon, Ga., were approved today by Secretary Baker.

Most of the men objected to fighting against Germany or Austria because they have relatives there. In approving the findings of the courts, the first of the kind to reach the department, Mr. Baker went on record as favoring the return of such men "to the countries of their preference" after the war.

Twelve objectors were sentenced as follows: Hyman Polkes, 15 years; William J. Seider, 20 years; Joseph White, 15 years; Anton Zsoldak, 10 years; Julius Jevithal, 18 months; Louis Silberman, 10 years; Mayer Suffkind, 10 years; Louis H. AUSTRIANS FAIL IN ITALIAN OFFENSIVE (Associated Press Telegram) Paris, June 17.—The reports from the Italian front are encouraging and the newspapers believe that the enemy will be checked. The Echo de Paris says the Austrians may get a repulse which might be turned into a defeat. The Matin declares the present battle is an unquestionable success for the Italians, because the Austrians appear to have failed.

Almost all the newspapers insist that serious political consequences in Austria-Hungary will follow a check to the Austrian offensive.

"I have always advocated having it apply to men of those ages," said Senator Chamberlain, "and think we will yet come to it. There are lots of men over thirty who really are doing nothing and ought to be reached."

NEXT LIBERTY LOAN WILL BE FLOATED DURING OCTOBER

(Associated Press Telegram) Washington, June 17.—The fourth Liberty Loan this fall probably will be for at least $6,000,000,000, and is likely to be floated in October.

This was indicated in an announcement by Secretary McAdoo published today that in preparation for the fourth loan about $6,000,000,000 in certificates of indebtedness will be issued within the next four months. They will be offered in blocks of $750,000,000 each, every two weeks, beginning June 25, will bear 4-1/2 per cent interest and will have varying maturity periods, none exceeding four months.

In reply to a telegram of congratulations on the birthday of Chancellor von Hertling, the emperor declares that he leads "the most capable people on earth," and expresses the hope "that the German people will have strength to bear their sufferings and privations."

PREDICT A BATTLE OF GIGANTIC PROPORTIONS

(Associated Press Telegram) Washington, June 17.—(Italian Front).—An official dispatch from Rome dated 11:55 o'clock last night says the battle on the Italian front will assume gigantic proportions, the Austrians attempting to break down the Italian defense by a great pincer movement. It adds that the battle will last several days before a decision is reached.

SAY AUSTRIANS ARE RAGGED AND ALSO ILL FED

(Associated Press Telegram) With the Italian Army, June 16.—One of the most brilliant of the Italian actions was the defense of the Monte Moschin salient protecting the important Brenta positions. Here the Austrians suffered heavy losses and many of their machine guns were captured.

The prisoners are ragged and ill fed. Many of them are undersized youths. The feeling of the Italians is buoyant. At Italian army headquarters satisfaction is felt over the situation on every part of the front. The general commanding the artillery corps in the Monte Grappa region, expressed this feeling to the correspondent.

"Now send us only four divisions of Americans," the general added. "We will first shake hands and then travel together into Austria."

The severity of the fighting on Monte Grappa may be understood from the fact that the Italian artillery fired 7,000 shells in twelve hours.

CLAIM THEY ARE NOT MISTREATING WAR PRISONERS

(Associated Press Telegram) Amsterdam, June 17.—American war prisoners are not being ill treated in Germany, says a dispatch telegraphed to Amsterdam by the semi-official Wolff bureau of Berlin. The prisoners, it is declared, are not used as show objects to the German public and are not subjected to insults and the throwing of stones, which is "foreign to the calm-tempered German mind, which does not excite itself, anyhow, over a few Americans in the midst of so many thousands of war prisoners of all nationalities."

Adequate food, on a scale corresponding to the "present condition in Germany," is not lacking in the camps where American prisoners are quartered.

PREMIER TENDERS HIS RESIGNATION

(Associated Press Telegram) Sofia, Sunday, June 16.—(Via Amsterdam).—Premier Radoslavoff tendered the resignation of the cabinet and King Ferdinand has accepted it. The ministers were requested by the king to retain their portfolios until a new cabinet is formed.

The downfall of Premier Radoslavoff most probably is due to the feeling in Bulgaria that he did not make the most of his opportunities in the negotiations during which peace was forced on Roumania and Roumania compelled to give up the Dobruja. Many Bulgarians have felt it has been reported, that the Dobruja should have been ceded outright to Bulgaria. There also has been some dissatisfaction over whether the central powers would back Bulgaria's territorial claims in Macedonia.

The coalition cabinet of Premier Radoslavoff, who is the liberal leader, came into office several years before the war and has been retained since with only a few minor changes.

AUSTRIANS DRIVEN BACK BY THE ITALIANS AFTER FORCING THE PIAVE RIVER

FIGHTING ALONG RIVER MOST INTENSE AND ENEMY HAS ACCOMPLISHED BUT LITTLE IN THE INCEPTION OF THEIR DRIVE IN NORTHERN ITALY

ALTHOUGH GREAT BATTLE HAS BUT BEGUN YET SITUATION IS REASSURING TO WAR OFFICIALS

Austrian Pressure Is Strong and Enemy Is Concentrating powerful and Fierce Attacks Astride the Brenta and Across the Piave—Using Artillery and Gas Shells—Italian Troops and Allies Holding Austrians Strongly and Make Repeated Counter-Attacks—Tactics Employed by Austrians Similar to Those which Brought Success to Germans in Somme and Aisne Offensive.

(Associated Press Telegram) With the Italian Army, Sunday, June 16.—Austrian troops which forced the Piave river have been driven back. The fighting along the river is most intense.

(Associated Press Telegram) Rome, Sunday, June 16.—The situation on the Italian front in its entirety seems very reassuring, says a semi-official note issued tonight. It is added that the great battle which broke out Saturday has but begun. Although having a strength of 60 divisions the enemy attacking forces have not succeeded in passing the Italian advanced area at any point.

Austrian pressure continues very strong along the entire front. The enemy is concentrating most powerful and fierce attacks astride the Brenta and across the Piave and it is still possible for the fighting line to flow backwards or forwards.

The enemy based his enterprise on various factors. To assure him a victory, says the semi-official note. There was a relatively brief but extremely violent artillery preparation with a large number of gas shells. This bombardment was for the purpose of destroying the Italian front line and paralyzing the Italian artillery. Then under cover of an artificial fog from bombs and smoke apparatus the enemy in open formation advanced to the attack. The enemy placed such faith in this preparation that he fixed his objectives for the first day's fighting more than 15 kilometers in advance and planned to descend from the mountain area and also reach the city of Treviso from the Piave river.

The enemy's bombardment was frustrated by the formidable fire from the Italian artillery, which destroyed lines and shelters and made full hits on massed troops as well as drenched his emplacements with gas.

North of Cekuna an advance group of British, which had been passed and surrounded by the Austrians, resisted until a counter-attack freed them and at the same time captured 200 prisoners. Between the Brenta and the Piave 959 prisoners were captured.

Altogether 3,000 prisoners, including 89 officers, were taken by the Italians and their Allies in the first day of the struggle, which was to have been a great success for the Austrians, but which resulted in a dismal failure.

It is believed the Austrian general attack is a repetition of the enemy's maneuver of last October when he took the offensive from Caporetto to Monfalcone with the intention of disorganizing the Italian front by forcing the Italians to retire in the Bainsizza and Carso regions. Now the enemy's intent apparently is intended to conceal the development of a plan long cherished by Field Marshal Conrad von Hotzendorf to break through from the high Asiago plateau to the Venetian plain, their compelling the Italian army along the Piave to retire in order to avoid being caught by an outflanking movement.

The Italian troops and their allies are holding the enemy strongly, tenaciously resisting him in the new offensive and making repeated counter-attacks, said Premier Orlando in a statement tonight in the chamber of deputies.

"During the day the enemy by a strong reaction hindered the counter-offensive pressure of our troops and those of our allies on the Asiago plateau and in the Monte Grappa region," said the premier. "The Austrians also attacked violently all along the Piave. Our troops by tenacious resistance and repeated counter-attacks are strongly holding the enemy. The struggle is most bitter on the eastern slopes of Montello and in the west of Sandona di Piave."

PRAY FOR VICTORY.

(Associated Press Telegram) Rome, June 16.—The Italian army was prepared for the Austrian attack and there is confidence that it will be able to break the force of the blow. Throughout the country there is a feeling of tense expectancy. The grave, solemn faces of the people are expressive of the seriousness of the hour but also of the pride which is felt in the army for its splendid stand, although the difficult front. The churches were more crowded than usual today, throngs of women praying for victory and for the safety of those at the front.

AUSTRIANS ARE CHECKED IN THEIR INITIAL DRIVE

(Compiled from A. P. Dispatches).—Although the situation along the great crescent-shaped battle line in northern Italy remains somewhat obscure, it seems that the Austrians have accomplished little at the inception of their drive against the Italian and allied armies.

From the lower Piave river and northward along that stream come encouraging reports telling of the enemy being checked and at some points being hurled back across the stream. From the Piave to the Brenta where the Teutons advanced through mountain ravines in their attempts to break through the allied lines, the situation seems to be well in hand.

It now appears that the Austrians made three successful attempts to cross the Piave. One was south of Montello, where the battle line leaves the Piave river and mounts to the westward into the Alps. One was between Candela and Zenson book, where the Austrians effected a crossing last November and held a bridge head for some time. The other was at Dona di Piave, about 11 miles from the mouth of the river. At least some of these forces have been driven back across the river, while the others have not been able to develop any advantage from their early success.

Reports of the battle show that the tactics followed by the Austrians were similar to those which brought success to the Germans in the Somme and Aisne offensives. The enemy advanced, under cover of a smoke barrage from bombs and smoke apparatus in comparatively small parties. These were directed against portions of the line believed to be lightly held. In France the Germans succeeded by this method of gaining the rear of strongly-held portions of the line which had to be evacuated quickly by the allies. Along the Italian front, however, the foe not able to penetrate far into the allied positions and counter-attacks soon drove him back to his lines.

REGULAR MEETING OF KIWANIS CLUB HELD AT NOON TODAY

The third regular meeting and luncheon of the Kiwanis Club of Newark was held at noon today at the Masonic Temple. In addition to the regular membership, several visitors were present, and the meeting itself was full of interest and snap from start to finish.

Kiwanis Kirby I. Dickerson, known as the "lifer" of the club, was the oral booster, and gave a crisp, entertaining ten minute talk on the relation of life insurance as related to the present war.

Kiwanis member Charlie Hewitt, manager of the Kresge Company, was the silent booster, and in the drawings for the three donations contributed by him, the set of knives went to A. J. Kennedy, the half dozen handkerchiefs were drawn by J. E. Gaffer and the half dozen fruit jars were carried off by C. T. Bricker.

Kiwanis George M. Fenberg of the Auditorium theatre came across with his surprise stunt of five minutes by introducing a member of the Auditorium orchestra and the entertainment was greatly enjoyed by all the members.

As the club has nearly reached its minimum of fifty members, President W. W. Gard appointed a committee to formulate by-laws and report at the next meeting; also a committee to nominate a board of directors. Mr. Gard also appointed a committee on "service banner," consisting of J. E. Gaffer, George M. Fenberg and Earle P. Woodward.

It is expected that the club will be formally completed within the next week and be certified for charter to the International Kiwanis Club.

MEMORIAL SERVICES OF MODERN WOODMEN SUNDAY AFTERNOON

Memorial services for the departed neighbors of Cedar Camp No. 4727, M. W. A., were held Sunday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock at Cedar Hill cemetery. The parade formed at the Modern Woodmen hall at 1:30 o'clock and marched to the cemetery, where the graves were decorated. The local camp was assisted by the Buckeye camp of Zanesville, the Modern Woodmen and the Zanesville Forrester team.

After the calling of the roll of the deceased members since last Decoration Day by the master of ceremonies, Charles L. Flory, the memorial address was made by Judge C. O. Lemert. The services were concluded by the benediction offered by Rev. W. L. Heuser.

At the conclusion of the program, the line of march, headed by the Zanesville band, was reformed, and they marched back to the hall, where they disbanded.

Origin of "Cinderella."

Who wrote "Cinderella"? That's a question which cannot be answered, for the good reason that nobody knows. Charles Perrault is credited by some people with having invented Cinderella, but he only learned the story from his little boy, who learned it from his nurse, and that is all one knows. Cinderella is as old as the lullaby, and the lullaby is as old as the cradle. She belongs as much to one as to another. Cinderella is the Cendrillon of the French hearth, the Papuluga or Cinderevich of little Serb children, the Ventaflochs or Firelighter of the Catalans, the Cenerentola of the Italians the Aschenputtel of the Germans. It is much the same with the other nursery tales, such as "Little Red Riding Hood" and "Puss in Boots." Nobody ever did write them, they were passed along as old tales from one generation to another, and then they were put down on paper. Charles Perrault called his collection simply "Histories ou Contes du Temps Passé" adding for frontispiece the legend, "Comes de Ma Mere l'Oye," Tales of My Mother the Goose.

Old-Style Soap.

To prove how little the present generation knows about things that cut a figure in the past, a Missouri editor recently asked if any of his readers could tell him what an ash hopper was. Strange to say, scores informed him that an ash hopper was a utensil in which the housewife formerly deposited her wood ashes. At regular periods she poured into the hopper water which after seeping through, was strongly impregnated with lye. This, collected in a bucket or kettle, she employed in the making of soap from the fats which also she had collected. No boy or girl who was ever called upon to help while mother was making soft soap could possibly forget anything connected with the process, from the hopper to the boiler.—Christian Science Monitor.

Intensifying Blue Prints.

An under-exposed blue-print can be intensified by moistening its surface with a sponge dampened with peroxide of hydrogen. Old blue-print paper which would otherwise produce an indistinct copy need not be thrown away if treated with peroxide after the print has been exposed and "fixed."

It doesn't make a lightweight any heavier to put on airs.

SERGEANT SWINGLE

When Mortally Wounded Ordered
Patrol to Leave Him and Return To Company.

Sunday's Dispatch told of the award of the distinguished service cross to six members of the American Forces in France, among them being Sergeant Gray E. Swingle who was killed in action on March 28th. General Pershing gives the following brief description of the incident in which this Newark young man distinguished himself:

Sergeant Swingle (posthumous): "Was in command of a patrol sent out near Boise Destailoux on March 28, 1918. The patrol came under hostile machine gun fire and Sergeant Swingle was mortally wounded. He gave instructions to the patrol to return to the company commander and ordered them to leave him as the patrol was under fire and would in all probability be wiped out. Sergeant Swingle died within enemy's lines."

Private Goldcamp (posthumous): "Attempted to rescue Sergeant Swingle on March 29, his patrol leader, who was lying wounded within sight of his lines. While engaged in this work he came under hostile machine gun fire and was killed."

FEAR OF ARMY DUTY OF SON; ATTEMPTS LIFE

Fearful that her son was to be sent immediately to the army following his arrest on a vagrancy charge, Mrs. W. A. Custer, of 140 Union street, took carbolic acid just before noon today and her condition is extremely critical at the Newark Sanitarium.

The David Laison, who has reached the age of 21 years recently, has been arrested three times in the past few months under the promulgation of the vagrancy act, which requires a man to work or fight. Jobs were found for Laison, but he failed to stick to them and was again before the mayor this morning and fined $5 and costs. Mrs. Custer, it seems, thought that because he had registered for the army, that he would be inducted immediately, following his arrest on the vagrancy charge. She worried over the matter and her attempt at suicide followed. Her face and neck are burned by the liquid and at 2 o'clock this afternoon she had not regained consciousness. Dr. J. G. Shiner was called and she was removed to the Sanitarium in the Bradley ambulance. Her chances for recovery are said to be slight.

Useful Electric Lantern.

Among the numerous electric lanterns is a mechanical one, standing about a foot high, that provides its own current. A spring motor, wound up like a clock, drives a small generator, and this supplies current for a lamp bulb of 12-candle power. The motor, generator and governor are contained in a base six by eight inches in size. Such a lantern is useful for the camp, the farm, or other place, and can be carried about in all kinds of weather.

Wasn't Talking About His Wife.

A Melbourne man was spending a friend of his troubles in general, when he sighed and said: "Yes, the only girl I really cared for I couldn't have." "What?" exclaimed the friend. "That doesn't sound very complimentary to your wife." "Oh," the other, hesitated to explain. "My wife felt a badly about it as I did. You see, the girl wanted two pounds a week and we couldn't afford to pay more than thirty shillings."

CHARGED WITH THE PASSING OF SPURIOUS MONEY

It was reported to Sheriff Charles H. Swank, Saturday night, that James H. Becker of Ridge avenue, had been passing counterfeit money on business men of the city and early Sunday morning the sheriff, accompanied by Deputy Sheriff F. O. Brown, went to his home to make the arrest. He was told by Becker's mother that he had gone fishing somewhere along the canal between Buckeye Lake and Hebron and had left early that morning. The sheriff, deputy and a neighbor boy, Robert Anderson, then drove to Hebron and walked along the canal. Sheriff Swank on one side and Deputy Brown on the other, in search of Becker. After they had walked two and a half miles they found him at 4:30 o'clock fishing from the bank and after being taken into custody he admitted that the charge was true.

The coins were 50 and 25 cent pieces and were of the date of 1853 and were an expert counterfeit of the original, the engraving was perfect, but they did not ring true. The supposition is that they were made from a mixture of lead, pewter and glass. There were nine coins in all, two halves and seven quarters. The two halves and two of the quarters were given to the sheriff when he called at Becker's home by the prisoner's mother.

Becker claims that the coins were given him by his father, who died two years ago, and that they were given the father by his grandfather. There are reasons to doubt these statements, for the coins were practically new and looked as if they had just been made. The charge against the young man, who is about 35 years of age, is a serious one.

Immediately after the arrest Sheriff Swank notified United States Marshal Devinney of Columbus, who instructed the sheriff to hold the prisoner until he received further instructions from him.

HOUSES OF ILL-FAME RAIDED BY POLICE; FINED IN COURT

Police court was the busy little spot this morning, when a large crowd of offenders marched before his honor, the mayor, and were assessed fines, which the majority of them paid at once. On Saturday night three raids of houses of ill fame were made and the dragnet made a good haul in each place.

Beatrice Rose and Myrtle Sorrell will have their hearing tonight, charged with running a house of prostitution, and Nora King and Georgia Wilson were fined $25 and costs each on the same charge. The last two women live in Railroad street, while the first two reside in Vine street.

Fifteen men were caught in the raid and paid fines of $5 and costs. Eight were from the city and the others from Toledo, Mt. Vernon, Bellaire, Bridgeport, Rochester, N. Y., and Toledo, O. The women arrested for being inmates of the houses were Sadie Smith, Josephine Walker, Pauline Kohn, Marie Kline and Ethel Johnson. Each of these were assessed fines of $10 and costs.

David Arthur Laison, aged 22, was arrested on a vagrancy charge and was fined $5 and costs, and will work out his time. Elmer Gibson of Chillicothe was fined $5 and costs for drunkenness and three local drunks drew like amounts on the same charge.

Charles Higson, who gave his residence as Bronville, Fla., was also fined $5 and costs for being drunk.

LICKING COUNTY'S STAMP QUOTA IS $4000 EVERY DAY THIS YEAR

The President Appeals to You!

Carrying the burdens of the greatest war of all times, President Wilson calls upon the people of America for aid. He asks "every man, woman and child to pledge themselves on or before June 28th to save constantly and to BUY WAR SAVINGS STAMPS as regularly as possible."

From June 17 to 28 will be known as National War Savings Pledge Days.

"The war is one of nations--not of armies," said the President, "and all of our 100,000,000 people must be economical and industrially adjusted to war conditions."

Let your first adjustment be on the financial side. This war will be won by our resources in money and material as much as by our men. Licking County's quota is $1,236,180 or $4000 every day this year.

With the glories of civilization menaced as never before---

Pledge Yourself Now!

Ohio calls for scores of millions pledged in that week. To get this it is necessary that there be many thousands of limit pledges, and that everybody pledge something. A limit pledge is to buy $1000 in face value before December, 1918.

Can anyone afford to neglect their country's call?

It is the call of all you hold dear, your safety threatened as never before; your liberty, in the balance on the battlefields of France; your home life, your business, both worthless if the Hun wins, and finally, your personal standing as a man, in danger of reduction to a slave of military might.

LEND TO PROTECT YOURSELF!

The events of the last few weeks show that this danger is not imaginary. The events of this week will show whether the American people are ready now to answer, meet and overcome the attack on civilization.

The amount you pledge will show your willingness to measure up to your ability. Pledge $1000 in War Savings Stamps.

If you cannot pledge $1000, pledge all you can—$500, $400, $300, $200, $100.

BUT PLEDGE IT THIS WEEK!

The War Savings organization of this county will provide this opportunity to pledge yourself. Every letter carrier, every Boy Scout, every bank, most stores and every patriot will co-operate in this great effort.

You need only give your word, and the government agencies, supplemented by the hundreds of patriotic workers, will meet your terms and deliver the stamps.

"LET THERE BE NONE UNENLISTED"

THE LICKING COUNTY WAR SAVINGS COMMITTEE

An Investment for Your Welfare

The War Savings Stamps issued by the treasury department are within the reach of everyone. To practice thrift in peace times is a virtue and brings great benefit to the individual at all times; with a desperate need of the civilized world today for materials and labor with which to end the war, the practice of individual thrift is a patriotic duty and a necessity.

Here is an investment you would be delighted to make in peace times for your financial profit.

Make it in war time for the same reason, and for the added reason of patriotism.

THE INTEREST is good—4.27 per cent net.

The SAFETY is unquestioned.

The PRINCIPAL, plus interest, is payable on demand.

The CERTIFICATES may be registered.

The STAMPS are free of all taxation.

Such an investment was never before offered by this government. It leads all others. For the safety of your money, and for the safety of your country, put all you can into War Savings Stamps.

Pledge yourself to buy a $1000 Certificate for every member of your family before June 28.

Licking county's W. S. S. quota for 1918 is $1,236,180. In other words, Licking county people are asked to buy $1000 worth of stamps EVERY DAY this year.

LIBERAL BUSINESS POLICY

A man visiting in a large city took his family one night to a music hall. He was informed that general admission to the balconies, where no seats were reserved, was 50 cents. To get reserved seats, he would have to buy floor seats at $1.00. He asked if there would probably be room for him if he bought 50 cent seats.

"Can't say," gruffly replied the ticket seller. "You take your chances." So rather than run the risk of having to stand up the man bought $1.00 seats. Afterward he felt sore to note that the balconies were not half full, and 50 cent seats would have been perfectly good. The ticket seller knew the situation. But he felt it was better to grab the additional 50 cents a seat, rather than help the purchaser get in on the most favorable terms.

That principle runs all through business. Some men will grab the immediate dollar, without regard to the interest of the purchaser. Others look at the sale from the purchaser's point of view. They will sacrifice their own immediate interest, to see that the purchaser makes a deal that will please him and be most economical for him. That is the way to make business friends that stick.

This principle applies to our home trade situation. When you buy goods in stores of Newark you buy of sellers who do not depend on transient trade, here today and gone tomorrow. They depend on making permanent friends, consequently they will help you make the purchase most economical and best for you.

Also another characteristic of liberal business policy is willingness to advertise, and tell the public about goods. When a store gives out advance information in the public press about its goods, it helps the public make intelligent purchases, and get what is needed at the lowest rates.

Any grown up person whose exuberant patriotism calls on him to set off explosives on July Fourth, has fully qualified for immediate transportation to the trenches, where the explosives can be put where they will do the most good.

It is claimed that some of the German submarine commanders operating on our shores showed courtesy, but all the dime novel pirate heroes of our youth were perfect gentlemen.

The man who is anxious to make money out of present war conditions must be first cousin to the one who used his wife's funeral as a favorable occasion to drum up some new customers.

The public is in great doubt the pacifists, as it is impossible to say whether they should be shut up in asylums, or allowed to go at large in charge of keepers.

The bleacher crowd that is so sore because a base runner can not steal a base 90 feet away in four seconds, are often the same ones who themselves can't walk half a mile without begging a ride.

Having contributed money to the hospitals, some motorists think they are free to run down as many people as they want to.

It looks as if the Germans made too much noise when they tried to cross the Oise.

THE SALVAGE MOVEMENT

While much has been done by voluntary publicity to save valuable old material previously wasted, yet the movement needs systematic organization. The American Civic Association has started such an effort by appointing a national salvage committee, and is asking us all to help.

Take such materials as discarded pasteboard boxes, tin boxes, typewriter supply, brins and ribbon spools. All these materials are considered absolutely useless and worthless in most homes and factories. Yet pasteboard uses up paper, which is woeful short. Tin is short for the canning of food. Yet we throw incalculable tons of old tin material on dumps every day.

In Kansas City the Civic Association companies and various producers using pasteboard boxes, and asked if they would not be willing to use such material a second time if it could be marked "Salvage."

This was agreed to, and in some cases these containers were resold six times.

Some companies might object to this, on the ground that their sales would be hurt if their stock was not put up in absolutely fresh looking boxes. It should be possible to educate the public up to the idea that if they bought an article enclosed in a box marked "Salvage" they would be likely eventually to get their goods cheaper, as it would lower the cost of producing them.

There should be systematic collections by responsible parties, who can assure the public that full value is being paid. If these materials are not being thoroughly collected in Newark, a committee should be appointed to see that arrangements are made. If this should be attended to all over the country, money enough would be saved to pay our Red Cross and army Y. M. C. A. contributions several times over.

A DEMOCRATIC PEOPLE.

(Philadelphia Record.)
The announcement that Richard Folsom, son of one of the United States' greatest Presidents, has enlisted in the marines as a private will give a pleasant thrill to millions of Americans. What better testimony could be given to the essential and all-pervading democracy of their country? Here is a young fellow, who, because of his father's more elevated position and his own by no means inconsiderable merits, might easily have felt that he was fitted for an officer's commission. But, fired by the reports of the marines' great fighting in France and anxious to do his bit, he rushes off to a recruiting station here in Philadelphia, stands in line with a lot of other youthful patriots and is promptly accepted when his turn comes for examination. It is a delightful exhibition of American enthusiasm for the cause for which our soldiers are fighting abroad.

The case is not an isolated one. President Grant's grandson, young Sartoris, has been fighting in the ranks with the French Foreign Legion. Mr. Taft has given one son and Mr. Roosevelt four to the military service. Nearly every member of President Wilson's cabinet has one or more boys in the army or navy. The sons of millionaires are to be counted by the hundreds, possibly thousands, in the service. Many of them enlisted or were drafted as privates. War is no respecter of wealth in America, at least. We are a democratic people, and wish to continue so. When it comes to self-sacrifice for national ideals the sons of ex-Presidents stand on exactly the same footing as the very poorest boys who wear khaki.

THE ADVOCATE'S MATHING POINT

We wish that whosoever in coming time shall turn his eye hither, may behold that the place is not undistinguished where the first great battle of the Revolution was fought. We wish that infancy may learn the purpose of its erection from maternal lips, and that weary and withered age may behold it and be soothed by the recollections which it suggests. We wish that labor may look up here and be proud in the midst of its toil. We wish that in those days of disaster, which, as they come on all nations, must be expected to come on us also, desponding patriotism may turn its eyes hitherward, and be assured that the foundations of our national power still stand strong.

—Daniel Webster

He showed me the letter an' land's sakes it was the most offie letter you ever seen, which it said his Maw was so offie stings she wouldn't let him have but too peace of cake an' that she quarled with his Paw an' I don't no what all. An' then he opens up a drawer an' takes out some stamps an' put on it an' goes over an' drops it in the stove. "There, I done so," he says.

Whither Are We Tending?
We often speculate as to what effect the war is going to have on our language, as even now we are inclined to think in war terms and in French, our accent appearing to far better advantage when we think it.

CHILD MUST BE PROTECTED.
(Toledo Blade)

The United States Supreme Court has declared unconstitutional a federal law, passed two years ago, which prohibited the interstate shipments of products of child labor. The act was intended to apply particularly against certain southern states, where the protection of childhood and the progress of humanitarianism, continued shamelessly to exploit the feeble labor of little children. The law was a weapon wrought by modern thought and newly developed ideas of decency for a battle with backwardness and greed. It was purposed to hit grasping cotton mill owners in the spot where they were most vulnerable—the pocket.

We cannot believe that the supreme court enjoyed making this ruling. It must have been highly distasteful to the justices. Only the fact that the law was glaringly defective could have persuaded them to take a step which must strike all the country—outside of the southern mill districts—as outrageously reactionary.

Though this law has failed, it becomes the duty of Congress to seek the desired ends through some other method. This nation is committed to the principle that children must be schooled, children must be given the chance to live healthfully and to grow as nature intended they should. Children must be allowed normal play and the normal development of their years.

Through ruthless exploitation of child labor, England perceptibly lowered her national physique in the course of only one generation. This has cost England heavily in her struggle for survival against the Hun. America must do everything she can to avoid paying the same price for millionaires. If in one direction the constitution acts as a barrier to progress there are yet other ways by which the constitution can be satisfied. That instrument is no bulwark of reactionism and avarice, however much it has pleased the socialists to say so.

Lay in Coal.
In six months from now there will be many regrets that the coal bins were not filled in the summer months. Don't delay a week longer. Save up and buy coal. There is enough money wasted to fill every coal bin in town to overflowing. There is a lot of money going to pleasure now that could be invested in happiness to come a year while. Did You Know?

That today, June 17, is the anniversary of the Battle of Bunker Hill? The American troops were commanded by Colonel Prescott and General Putnam, and the British troops by General Howe. The British loss in killed and wounded was 1054; that of the Americans, 450. Although the Americans were driven from their position after their powder was exhausted and the victory remained with the British, the moral effect of this first battle of the Americans and the heavy loss of the enemy made it equivalent to a victory for the former. On the ground where the hottest of the battle was fought, a granite obelisk, 220 feet high, has been erected. The cornerstone was laid by General Lafayette when on his visit to this country in 1825. It was completed in July, 1842, and on the occasion of its dedication Daniel Webster delivered his famous oration.

The week day visiting periods are primarily for the men in the training battalions of the One Hundred and Fifty-eighth depot brigade, who are not participating in the intensive training of the Eighty-fourth division. Major General Hale has decided that it will be impossible to let visitors into the sections occupied by the infantry brigades of the Eighty-fourth.

The granting of the two week day visiting periods does not mean that there will be any let-up in the training period. The infantrymen will be held to as strict military discipline and as much work on these afternoons as during any period of the week.

General Hale's crusade against exorbitant rentals has had its desired result. Soldiers and officers about camp today said that landlords had lowered rents in many instances, fearing that an investigation camp officials might lead to the ban being placed upon their homes. Lincoln division men rentals in Chillicothe are much higher than they are in Louisville.

A detachment from the 309th Sanitary Train, including two officers and 27 enlisted men, have received orders to proceed from Camp Sherman to Camp Zachary Taylor, Louisville, Ky., where they will drive overland twelve ambulances and three motorcycles.

Nickel Named for Devil.
It was firmly asserted and honestly believed by the ancient German copper miners that Old Nick, alias the devil, worked at night making an infernal metal purposely to bother and poster the honest and religious miners. This ore, which to all intents and purposes looked exactly like copper ore, yet no copper could be extracted from it, they called kuppfernickel, or devil's copper. This Old Nick's material, nicknamed nickel, was discovered by Cronstedt in 1751, and it was comparatively scarce in the metal world until a New York assayer found a few pounds of it in a shipment of copper ore from Sudbury, Canada. He assayed the metal and stated its value in his return account. The astonished shipper, however, instituted a systematic search and quickly found immense deposits of nickel ore.

With American Army—German troops raided trenches at Nivray but were repulsed. American riflemen repulsed a German attack in Alsace where American troops have been since May 21. It was announced.

Washington—German U-boats are still off the Atlantic coast, having attacked the Norwegian ships, Samon and Kringsjara. Crews and passengers of both ships were rescued.

Canton—Eugene V. Debs, Socialist, in a speech at Socialist convention claims to have said that allies purpose in the war was same as Teutons—plunder. District attorney at Cleveland says that if he made such statements he will be charged with espionage violation.

Washington—Secretary McAdoo announced that in preparation for the fourth Liberty loan about $6,000,000,000 certificates of indebtedness will be issued.

A HELPING HAND OVER THE TOP

The services of women during this supreme crisis of the world's history have been of the most signal usefulness and distinction. The war could not have been fought without them. It is high time that some part of our debt of gratitude to them should be acknowledged and paid and the only acknowledgment that they ask is their admission to suffrage. Can we justly refuse it?—President Wilson.

VISITING ORDERS AT CAMP SHERMAN ARE MISINTERPRETED

Camp Sherman, Chillicothe, O., June 17.—Major Harry Hale said today that officers sadly misinterpreted his orders in reference to visiting days in camp and that civilians would be allowed periods on Wednesday and Saturday as well as Sundays.

The week day visiting periods are primarily for the men in the training battalions of the One Hundred and Fifty-eighth depot brigade, who are not participating in the intensive training of the Eighty-fourth division.

SOLDIERS' LETTERS

Editor of the Advocate:

I am now many miles from Newark and the old Advocate, but I receive it once in a while. You get plenty to eat, a hammock and a place to hang it; all the work you need to develop your muscle for the hard drilling you have to do and after all it is fine place.

For the first 21 days you have to go through the detention camp for a tryout of your physical fitness for the work you are to take up. Here at Hampton Roads it is about an acre square with a high wire fence, barb wire at the top, guards all round and a bunch of homesick boys inside. While there you receive no liberty to go to town or around with the other fellows. But after that is over it is fine. I would like to have one of the service medals if I "rate it," as they say in the navy. Monahan and Smart from Newark, who came with me, have left for sea and so far as I know are having a fine time on the "blue." I suppose. Well, will close, hoping to hear from you in the near future.

H. H. McFARLAND,
Co. 315, Unit J,
U. S. Naval Operating Base,
Hampton Roads, Va.

Editor of The Advocate—I received a paper from some one of my friends in Licking county, but do not know who it was to have been so kind to do so. So, anyway, I am writing to you, Mr. Editor, and am thanking you and all for their kindness, as it is a pleasure to sit down after my duty is finished and read an old home-paper. Well, I must close, so hoping to receive some news from my old home, with best wishes and good luck to all, I close.

C. N. Spicer,
New York City.

This letter from Mr. Spicer, dated "over there," May 2, arrived in Newark, June 17. Many people are sending Advocates to the boys in the army and navy and the letters that come back show that the papers are gladly received. The mail subscription rate is $3 a year, or $1 for three months.

Editor of The Advocate—I wish to thank you for the medal which I just received from the people of Licking county. All that I can say is I will try to get many more to hang by the side of it. It attracts much attention among the boys in camp, and I prize it very highly. Wishing you success, I remain, very truly yours, H. W. Vogel.

Nickel Named for Devil.
It was firmly asserted and honestly believed by the ancient German copper miners that Old Nick, alias the devil, worked at night making an infernal metal purposely to bother and poster the honest and religious miners. This ore, which to all intents and purposes looked exactly like copper ore, yet no copper could be extracted from it, they called kuppfernickel, or devil's copper. This Old Nick's material, nicknamed nickel, was discovered by Cronstedt in 1751, and it was comparatively scarce in the metal world until a New York assayer found a few pounds of it in a shipment of copper ore from Sudbury, Canada. He assayed the metal and stated its value in his return account. The astonished shipper, however, instituted a systematic search and quickly found immense deposits of nickel ore.

With American Army—German troops raided trenches at Nivray but were repulsed. American riflemen repulsed a German attack in Alsace where American troops have been since May 21. It was announced.

SOCIAL EVENTS

SOCIETY EDITOR, AUTO 'PHONE 55125

At the Deeds' old homestead, three miles west of Union Station, on Saturday, June 15, was held the fifty-third Deeds' family reunion, which was formerly held on New Year's day. Fifteen years ago it was changed to a Saturday in June so the relatives could enjoy the day and dinner outdoors on the lawn.

One hundred and forty relatives from over the state, and Paul Deeds, from Indianapolis, Ind., met and enjoyed the day and had a basket dinner served on the front lawn.

After dinner a speech was made by Colonel E. A. Deeds on aircraft. He said that the aircraft committee was making good; that our government was now building the best warplanes made by any country and would soon be able to turn them out as fast as needed.

At 11:30 a. m., Archie Freeman, of the Wright company at Dayton, gave an exhibition flight in a Wright 100 horse-power plane. He flew over Granville, Newark and Buckeye Lake. At 2 p. m. he started for Dayton after giving the crowd some fancy flying.

The Miller reunion was held on Sunday, June 16, at the home of Mr. A. C. Waddell, 677 East Main street. An elaborate dinner was served and the afternoon was devoted to a cleverly-arranged musical program.

Those attending the reunion were: Mr. and Mrs. David Rowland, Mr. and Mrs. Ben Leigh and Mrs. Sadie Fulton of Columbus; Mr. and Mrs. John Wharton, Kenneth and Edna of Toledo; Mr. and Mrs. Pearl Wagner and family, Mr. and Mrs. A. F. Miller and sons, Fred and Ivan of Thurston; Mr. and Mrs. Roy Miller and family, Mr. and Mrs. John Miller of Newark.

The Christian Endeavor society of Fairmont church gave an ice cream and strawberry social last Thursday evening at the home of W. E. Wallace, one mile east of Jackstown, on the National pike. The affair, which was for the benefit of the convention of the Christian Endeavor, which is to be held in Newark this month, was largely attended and the net sum of $30 was realized. Music was furnished by the Brownsville band, and Herman Loughman, a member of the band, sang a solo, "America, I Love Thee." Mr. Loughman is a popular musician and vocalist.

Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Hunter were delightfully surprised at their home in Franklin township by a number of their friends. The event was in the nature of a farewell party as they are leaving soon for their future home in Texas. The hours were informally spent and refreshments were served to about forty-five guests.

The Dusthimer reunion was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. S. J. Snelling, 393 National Drive, June 13, with the following present:

Mrs. Elizabeth Coe, Mr. and Mesdames J. W. Dusthimer, H. E. Dusthimer, S. J. Snelling, W. H. Miller, J. L. Watson, C. L. Dusthimer, D. E. Dusthimer, O. A. Warner, Marion Leisure, Edward Coe, W. E. Dusthimer, M. O. Griffith, Dale Gilmore, J. B. Watson, Ernest Coe, Everett Hupp, Chester Snelling, Dr. and Mrs. O. J. McCurdy and Prof. Leisure.

After greetings a delicious dinner was served on the lawn. The following officers were elected for the ensuing year:

The marriage was celebrated at 10:30 Monday morning, June 10th in St. Peter's Cathedral, Memphis, Tenn. They were attended by Lt. Sullivan and Mrs. Hanna C'Leary of Memphis, also cousin of the bride. Miss Crum is the charming daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Crum of Columbus, while Mr. Jenkins is well known in Newark. He was graduated from Blessed Sacrament high school, being a member of the class of 1913 and has since been a valuable employee of the B. & O. railroad company until last December when he enlisted with the 282nd Aero squadron, Park field in Memphis to which he is now assigned.

Our Boys and Girls

Milk is such a perfect food for children that it is a pity when the desired quantity cannot be taken easily and relished. For the average child past the third year, a quart of milk a day is the allowance advised by most authorities on the diet of children, this quantity to include not only the milk which the child actually drinks, but also that used in preparing foods and that served with cereals and other foods.

Where a child shows a disinclination for milk as a beverage, it requires some little ingenuity to plan his food to include the required quart. If a cup of milk is the only between-meal food over allowed and that only once a day, either between breakfast and dinner or dinner and supper, the probabilities are that it will be welcome, especially if two finger strips of oatmeal bread are laid across the top of the glass.

If it can be looked upon as a treat, it will be enjoyed accordingly. Another method of teaching a child to drink milk, is to serve the cup of milk at the beginning of a meal with the understanding that other food will follow when the milk is disposed of. It is easy for a child to form habits of eating and any inclination to slyly his necessary milk should be checked in the beginning.

Road's Thick Ice Foundation.
At one point of a road recently constructed in Alaska, there is a solid ice foundation. At the surface there is a two-foot layer of moss and tundra, but previous mining operations at this point proved that there is a forty-foot bed of clear ice and six feet of gravel between the surface layer and bed rock.

Jack Hundley left for Akron yesterday. He will return in September to take up the work of his senior year at Denison University.

TULLE HERE AGAIN FOR DANCE FROCKS

Tulle, that soft material of cool pleasant memories, has come to the ballroom once more. This dainty dancing frock for the debutante is turquoise blue tulle over flesh-colored satin. The large puffy rosettes over the hips give a charming silhouette, and this is the season of silhouettes. The puffy girdle is of rainbow colored satin.

The Stars of Tomorrow

their understanding a word. There was a certain phrase the Indians taught me and whenever I would use it, they would all nearly burst their sides laughing. Crazy Thunder assured me it was nothing wrong, but I still have my suspicions, for I never learned what it meant. I also learned the Indian sign language, and, as I say, I was really qualifying for an aborigine when I left the company.

"There wasn't anything spectacular about my entry into the pictures. A manager saw me, thought I knew to this day how I stuck on the horse through these first scenes—talk about thrills—why I used to just hold on and hope—hope I wouldn't fall off. And I never did. I rode over rough roads up hill and down dale. I rode at a mad gallop and jumped ravines like a greyhound—rather, my horse did, with me clinging on for dear life. I must have borne a charmed life. But, after a time, 'custom' as Shakespeare says, 'made it me a quality of easiness' and I grew to be a really good rider, Indian fashion. It makes me ill to this day to see some of those society riders in Central Park, bobbing up and down like jump-jacks. That's not riding—it's bouncing."

Ann Little is possessed of youth and beauty in large measure, and also of real ability. She is a Native Daughter of California and first saw the light of day in Slisson, up in the north of the state. Her bright style is one of her big assets. But she can do a restrained role with equal skill.

MASKS SAVE BABES, SAYS THIS DOCTOR

Dr. Esther Lovejoy.

Dr. Esther Lovejoy, a member of the Medical Women's National association, spoke at the opening meeting of the American Medical association recently held in Chicago. Dr. Lovejoy has seen service in France, having worked in the American women's hospital under the Red Cross. Here she is shown holding a child's gas mask like those used by the French children when the Germans send over their poisonous fumes. She is explaining the mask and its use to little Margaret Milne. These masks save the lives of hundreds of children who otherwise would be added to the list of innocent victims of Hun brutality.

SHE FINDS HERSELF

By ALICE KILLIAN.

"Come right in, Cornelia," said Mrs. Connery hospitably.

Mrs. Connery was rather surprised at seeing Cornelia Barclay so soon after their conversation regarding exemption from military service, and she was very glad to see that the girl harbored no ill feeling toward her for having spoken so plainly. Noticing the pale face and heavy eyes of her guest, she asked: "What's the matter? Aren't you feeling well?"

Cornelia slowly nodded. "I'm all right," she said with an effort, "but Bob—Bob's gone!"

"Gone?" echoed Mrs. Connery, "Where?"

"Rockford! He's in training!"

A glad smile illuminated Mrs. Connery's countenance. "I'm so glad, Cornelia—and you must feel proud! You couldn't help it."

"I am proud," Cornelia assented, "but," sobs came fast, "I'm so lonesome."

Mrs. Connery patted her hand comfortingly. "I know, dear," she murmured.

Cornelia dried her tears. "Don't think I'm hunting sympathy, Mrs. Connery," she said. "I'm not, but I just had to talk to someone, and I knew you'd understand. When I left here that afternoon my mind was in a tumult. You had made me see how selfish I really was, and the question seared my burning brain. Who am I, that my husband should be exempted from service? Am I a slacker? Oh, you don't know how that word shrivels one, when you feel that it may be applied to oneself! I'd say, 'It's Wall street's war; let the rich do the fighting! I'm willing we should fight, to defend our country, but why send our boys abroad to be shot by German sharpshooters?'"

"You know what kind of a conscience I have," Cornelia continued. "It never gives me a minute's rest when I feel that I'm in the wrong, and I knew that I was all wrong. It isn't a Wall street war; we are fighting for a great principle; our boys are going abroad because we must be protected, and that is the best and only way! Still, I just couldn't see Bob among them."

"When I got home after my talk with you," Cornelia went on, "Bob was waiting for me. I tried to get his views on the military situation, but he'd say very little. We went down to dinner, and at every table all you could hear was war—war! I couldn't eat; I excused myself and went back upstairs. Soon Bob followed, and then we had it out."

"I don't think I ever saw such absolute joy in any man's face as there was on Bob's when I told him I thought he'd better waive exemption. He stared at me stupefied, then, as he finally grasped my meaning, he dropped his head on his hands and sobbed like a baby."

Cornelia's voice choked.

"Little by little he told me just what he'd been up against. Downtown all his friends knew that I had been working for a long time after we married. Also they knew that I had resigned my position, and blamed him for it. They thought he was simply hiding behind my petticoats and evading service. Of course, he wanted to know what had made me change my mind, and—"

Cornelia giggled. "I told him that I'd been listening to an inspired lecture on patriotism, and that I wanted him to go."

"Poor Bob," said Mrs. Connery sympathetically.

"And," continued Cornelia, "Mr. Baker, his employer, has been wonderfully kind. Bob said that when he told him he was going to Rockford, Mr. Baker just wrung his hand and said: 'My boy, I'm proud of you. I just couldn't reconcile your hanging back at a time like this, with your previous record.' Poor Bob! Wasn't it a shame that poor, selfish I had placed him in a position where he had to choose between loyalty to his wife or to his country and, by being loyal to me, make everyone think he was a coward and did not love the flag? Mrs. Connery, I just hate myself for my blindness."

"No need of all that self-abasement, Cornelia," said Mrs. Connery. "Being cheerful and doing your bit will make the separation easier, and you know Bob would worry if you regretted his going."

"I don't regret it for one minute," said Cornelia emphatically. "He looks simply great in his uniform, and his heart is in his work. I know Bob will make a good soldier. But," Cornelia struggled with her tears, "I'm awfully lonesome!"

No Epidemics at Mecca.

Mecca has been likened by Burton to Bath, but has been compared by other writers to "Florence without beauty." It has had a full share of flood, fire and sword, but it is said never to have suffered from any serious epidemic, says the London Chronicle.

This seems the more remarkable because the city lies at the lowest level of a valley which must be a cesspool and the sewage, having no outlet, percolates into the wells. The immunity, ascribed by Mohammedans to miraculous interposition of Providence on behalf of "Mecca the Inviolable," is due to the dry climate, the fact that most of the inhabitants have the fine physical vigor needed for a long journey and the absence of destitution.

The thousands seen begging are "beggars at a fair," reaping the harvest of wealth brought by pilgrims.

All's fair in love and war, so here's to the soldier boy who is lucky at love!

Arms and Shoulders.
The whole body should be cultivated and developed so that each part and feature will add to its beauty. Beautiful arms and shoulders are possessions in which women can take pride and they are within the reach of all those who do not suffer from some actual deformity. General exercise develops the arms and there are few exercises which do not involve the muscles of the arms and shoulders. But there are exercises which result in special development.
You should first study your arms and shoulders and learn what development is necessary. If the forearm needs to be rounded, stand erect, raise the arms from your sides to a horizontal position and work the fingers with the muscles tense as though the hands were grasping and releasing objects.
To develop the shoulders, stand erect, raise the arms to a horizontal position and describe verticle circles. Be careful not to bend the arms, but give the shoulder muscles full play. Use dumb bells and Indian clubs. Golf, rowing, tennis and swimming are all excellent arm and shoulder development exercises. Sports are enjoyable and hold one's interest, while simple calisthenics may become monotonous.
To put the arms in perfect condition they should be massaged frequently. This keeps the muscles pliable and shapely, invigorates the blood circulation and keeps the skin in good condition. Exercise, with massaging, will reduce or enlarge the arms by regulating the flesh covering and removing the surplus fat where it exists.
Exercises should not be confined to those especially adapted to arm and shoulder development. It is equally important to develop the rest of the body. The shapely arm makes a poor appearance if the skin is not in good condition. The skin of the arms and shoulders should be treated with the same consideration as is given to the face. It is easier by far to keep in good shape as it is not exposed to the weather as is the face.

Every Day Etiquette
"If I do not care to send out cards to friends to announce the birth of my child, what should one do?" was Mrs. Newmother's query.
"Notes can be written to one's intimate friends, or the announcement may be made through the newspapers," said her aunt.

GEM.
A William Fox photoplay is announced for Tuesday at the Gem theatre. It is called "For Liberty" and it deals with the story of the American Revolution.

CLAYTON ROCKWELL is the star, and that in itself makes a brilliant performance, for it is declared that in spite of the fact that this star has done his performance in the new play which is to appear here shows her in a different and in a greater light.

This story tells of the conditions that immediately preceded the war in Berlin, and of the terror and alarm that came when the declaration was made. It is, however, a story of the life of a brilliant woman who goes through all the ordeals that most American women who were in Germany at the time, and who is true to her country and to her love.

The Woman's Press says:
When it comes to the versatility of women in various spheres it would appear that Charlotte, the famous skater, who has entered the motion picture realm, is one of the most versatile. This young woman, who is not yet twenty years of age, won world-wide recognition as a classic skater in Europe before coming to America to start her skating career that has spread from coast to coast and from the Canadian border to the Gulf of Mexico.

In addition to this she is a dancer of much grace, and in an interview with Paylow, the great Russian dancer, said that Charlotte might easily win great fame as a dancer. In addition to this, the young woman is a good swimmer and diver, and is expert in the handling of motor boats. She earth, is here today, and she invites all sister "Vamps" to attend, free of charge, her production of "Du Barry" at the Auditorium today and tomorrow. This is a William Fox super-production. "Who is Du Barry?" June 18 is the leading role in the great Metro production, which opens at the Auditorium Wednesday and Thursday. Some wonderful scenes and a large Metro cast is to be seen.

Clayton Rockwell in "The Philadelphia Experiment" comes to the Auditorium today and tomorrow. If you are a real American, and you know you are, but you must not miss this thrilling feature. A good cast of Fox players are seen and they include beside the star Victor Sutherland, Clayton Rockwell, Robert Evans, Jane Condit, Willet Cooper, Nicholas Romanoff, and others.

Mr. Pomeroy will give away 500 Thrift stamps during Thrift Stamp Week, which begins June 24th. He is going to sell a 10-cent admission ticket and who ever buys one will give a 5-cent stamp only 500 will be placed on sale and they are good until used up for all regular house pictures.

The movies are always coming in for their share of good. One in base hospitals in France, a new method is used in showing the pictures to wounded men lying in beds. Portable motion picture machines are so stationed that the projections appear on the ceiling, thus enabling patients to view the pictures while on their backs.

Anna Held, who was nearly dead, is getting better and as a good friend to get well.

William S. Hart, perhaps the foremost delineator of western roles in the cinema world, comes to the Auditorium Friday in Thomas H. Ince's production, "The Tiger Man." This is an Almiral, the story being that of a hawk, who has snatched Mr. Hart with many of his most successful scenes.

Managers of the Fox theatre have decided to show a new feature, "The Girl in the Red Velvet Dress," which is a story of a girl who is snatched by a man who is a thief and a murderer. The story is a very interesting one and is a very good picture.

DEDICATION OF BEAUTIFUL NEW BAPTIST CHURCH

The beautiful and imposing edifice, the First Baptist church, which has just been completed was formally dedicated yesterday, when from 10 o'clock in the morning services were held throughout the day.

Of white stone, with a large por-tico held with pillars and fronting on an angle, the church is one of the most attractive buildings in the city and is completely equipped for every need of the congregation.

The old church erected in 1874 was torn down a year ago last February when the new church building was started. It was designed by Pruitt & company, architects of Columbus, and was built by contractor C. J.
Hawkins of Newark. The present pastor is Rev. C. H. Stull.

On Sunday morning at 10 o'clock the dedication services were inaugurated. The altar was profusely decorated with ferns and lilies, harmonized with the cream and brown with which the interior of the church is decorated. At the appointed hour, the organist Miss Bertha Stevens began the organ voluntary and the large chorus under the leadership of Herbert Reynolds filed into the choir balcony.

As the doxology was sung, President Chamberlain of Denison University, Dr. C. J. Rose, Prof. Bunyon Spencer, Dr. W. D. Powell and the pastor, Rev. Mr. Stull filed to the pulpit platform. Dr. Stull had charge of the exercises, the others taking part in the order of service.

Large crowds had assembled to attend the opening services of the building, many prominent Baptists from other cities being in attendance.

The morning sermon was delivered by Dr. Powell, who spoke from a text in Hagga, and he urged the congregation to get under the great task of freeing the church edifice from all debt.

"Thirty thousand dollars is a large sum of money for any congregation to meet, but from what I have seen of the Baptists I am sure they will rise to the occasion and be equal to the task."

Dr. Powell, is famed as a pulpit man and has delivered over 600 chapters. At the close of his address the pastor took charge and asked the church for authority at once to proceed to the raising of the $30,000 before any dedication took place. By a vote taken this was done and the tellers took their places before the altar. Mr. Dodd, Mr. Hendricks and E. H. Frame took places before the table and the tabulation was begun.

The Ladies' Aid gave $5,000 and the Sunday school $1,500. A large amount of the money pledged was carried down the aisle in cash—many thousands of dollars. Liberty Bonds, War Savings Stamps, certificates and checks were drawn on all banks in the city.

Baptists from Licking, Alexandria, Granville and other places gave substantial gifts. Two sons of former pastors, Mr. Bennett and Mr. Pratt gave handsome gifts. The whole service was a splendid example of church loyalty and sacrifice, which brought a total of nearly $25,000.

At the evening service Dr. Powell again delivered the address and called upon the members for the balance of the sum desired, which was secured in a short time. The whole was considered a great victory for the church and congregation.

The dedication prayer was offered by the pastor and the meeting closed.
The dedication services continue throughout the week. Tomorrow evening a supper will be served from 5 to 7 o'clock and the beautifully ep-ped dining room of the new church and a program will be given at 7:45 o'clock at which two former pastors of the church will deliver addresses.

The new building will take care of all the needs of the congregation. It has a beautiful auditorium surmounted with a dome, brilliantly lighted. The lighting effect is complete both from the daylight and artificial standpoint. Large and airy Sunday school rooms for all departments have been provided, the pastor has a handsome study and the woman's parlor is well located being appar-iate for small gatherings of all women organizations.

The auditorium can be enlarged
by the lifting of a large sliding panel, which connects the auditorium proper with the Sunday school room.

The church has now been turned over to the congregation and will be used for the regular services.

BUILDING CONDITIONS

SAID TO BE IMPROVING

General improvement in building conditions was outlined by R. L.
Watson of Columbus, at a dinner meeting of the Newark Builders' Exchange Saturday night. He told the Newark builders that he had just returned from a tour of the state and was greatly impressed with the improvement of building conditions during the past two months. He said business men and manufacturers, who have been waiting for a drop in the prices of building materials and in labor, have become convinced that there is no likelihood of such a condition, and are now arranging to go ahead with projects, which they have held up since the beginning of the war.

AUSTRIANS DRIVEN BACK BY ITALIANS

So far German troops are reported only in other sectors of the mountain front, but it is not improbable that they will be dispatched to aid the Austrians if they can be spared along the French front. Furious fighting is said to be continuing and it is probable that harder blows will be launched by the enemy. The fact, however, that the first on-set did not result in a virtual debacle such as ensued when the Germans and Austrians attacked along the Isonzo last October, speaks volumes for the Italian morale, and late reports gives reason for belief that the blow at Italy is not being launched with force that was characterized in the offensive of the Germans in France during the last three months.

Premier Radoslavoff of Bulgaria, has tendered the resignation of his cabinet, which has been accepted.
This results from criticism of Rados-lavoff resulting from some features of the treaty of peace forced upon Rumania.

Italian, French and British troops have met the shock of the Austrian offensive along a 100-mile front in northern Italy and the enemy is being pushed back where he is not being held in check. Violent battles continue in the mountains from Lake Garda to the Piave and southward along the Piave, but at no place has the enemy broken through the Allie defense.

The full force of the Austrian blow in the mountain region drove the defenders of the Venetian plains back to their third line, but there the Italians held and by successive counter-attacks have re-occupied important positions on the Asiago plateau and have recaptured mountain heights along the Brenta. Around Montello height, where the battle line turns toward the Adriatic, the British have completely established their line and maintained it against vicious enemy blows.

Between the Brenta and the Piave the Austrians apparently have gained a strong foothold on the western slopes of Monte Grappa, one of the key positions protecting the plains around Bassano.
